This Week

Message from Helen: It has been wonderful to welcome so many of our pupils back into school since half term and to witness their pleasure at seeing their friends and staff. Our pods are now all full and we do not have the capacity to open any more. While I know that we have had some requests this last week that we are trying our best to accommodate, it will not be possible for us to take any more children this term. Teachers will continue to support pupils at home and at school until the end of term and come September we are all very much looking forward to the school being fully open, guidance permitting. Thank you for all you are doing to support our pupils and if there is anything we can do to continue to support you, please do not hesitate to be in touch.

Virtual Sports Day: We are planning a Virtual Sports Day for next week. You can find out how to join in on our website here:

School Nursing Feedback Form: Steph, our school nurse, has asked parents to complete a feedback form, which is attached to this newsletter.

Headteacher's Award Winners

Emily G, Palms: picking her own strawberries, raspberries and gooseberries and making delicious homemade jam

Yoimoji - Scoop

Next week's Yoimoji will be Scoop, the Curious Dog. Please send your teachers examples of how your children have been curious at home so that we can feature them in next week's newsletter.

Birthdays This Week

Happy birthday to Zackary R & Callum H who would usually have celebrated in Assembly with us.

Working from Home!

Despite us all not being together, Cedar class have all been working very hard. Jamie has made a fantastic sign and sing video at home which we hope to share with you all and Amelia has worked hard on cosmic kids yoga. In school we have been working on a variety of festivals. The pupils have enjoyed learning about different cultures and creating a range of craft and food items. The highlight for Rosie was creating sloths! Ella had her Birthday last Friday and had a nice day on the beach to celebrate.
