This Week

Bagpipes!: We need to borrow a set of bagpipes to use in this year's Shakespeare production. If you have, or know anyone who has, a set of bagpipes that could be loaned to us please get in touch. (Please note they don't need to be in working order!)

Tesco Tokens: We are one of the chosen charities for Tesco's "blue token" scheme at the moment. If you shop at Broadbridge Heath Tesco, please make sure you use your tokens to vote for us.

Parents Evening: Don't forget our Parents Evening on Tuesday 3rd October, from 5.30-7.00pm. Details are in the flyer emailed out this week. Vicki Mills from Dimensions will have a stall with lots of information about transitioning from Child to Adult Services.

Great Bake Off: On Wednesday 4th October we are having our "Great Bake Off" event as part of our Harvest celebration. This will raise money for International Service Project with Girl Guiding Sussex Central in partnership with a local charity The Coco's Foundation. Please do join us in the Studio at 2pm, or send in a bake for the event. There will be prizes for Best Class Design, Best Class Taste, Best Parent Bake, Best Staff Bake and Star Baker, all decided by our Student Council.

Class News from Elms Class

Elms have had a lovely few weeks settling in. We are enjoying our morning. We are all enjoying the Myths and Legends topic and came up with some lovely stories at Nymans. We have been learning about Van Gogh in art and recreated his famous sun flower picture. We have also been learning how to read music.
