

This Week

Red Nose Day: Our grand total for Red Nose Day was £220 raised for Comic Relief. Thank you to everyone who took part.

Rosie Is Running Again! Rosie, the teacher in Elms class, is doing another sponsored run for the school. This time she has teamed up with London Gatwick Fire and Rescue Service to run together. You can support them on JustGiving at www.JustGiving.com/fundraising/teamQE2

Baby News: Congratulations to Matt Malone from Limes class on the birth of his son on Sunday.

Summer Uniform: Now that summer and the hot weather is approaching (we hope!) please can we remind you that senior students are not permitted to wear summer dresses or shorts (some of our older primary girls may wish to wear cycle/gym shorts under their summer dresses). Please could you send in sun hats and sun cream when needed. Many thanks.

Class News from Beech Class

Last Wednesday Beech class had a fun day out at Hever Castle even though it was raining! We fed the ducks and went inside the castle to find out more about Henry VIII and one of his wives, Anne Boleyn. We had to climb lots of steps to explore!

Freewheelers "Amandla!"

We were lucky to welcome Freewheelers Theatre Company back to QEII this Wednesday. They gave a performance of their play "Amandla!" ahead of its new UK tour. The play tells the story of the life and times of Nelson Mandela through live performance and film. Students from Seniors, Firs and Oaks very much enjoyed the show. It was also lovely to see that some of the projected background art was by our Patron of the Arts, Rachel Gadsden.
